WACO, TEXAS, TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1917.

NUMBER 167

President Wilson Urges War

WACO MEN TO TRAIN FOR WAR IN LOCAL CAMP

Plans Made to Form Civilian Regiment in This City.

RECRUITS INCREASING

Local Militia Officers Find Spirit of Patriotism Responding to Call.

Nearly one hundred new men have been recruited in the two local militia companies during the past two days since the call for active service was sent out by the president, and the recruiting to full war strength will be completed before the companies are ordered into the state mobilization camp. Of this number about forty were recruited yesterday. Major P. A. Weatherhead was called to Austin yesterday afternoon by order of General Hulen of the Texas Brigade and Adjutant General Hutchins for a conference there with the two generals.

Practically every man of the companies have already reported for duty to their respective companies, either personally or by wire and these latter will be in the city within the next day or two. The out of town men are sleeping in the armory hall and are rationed by the company in one of the downtown hotels. Both companies are now only waiting for the order to report to the state mobilization camp, which will probably be at Fort Sam Houston.

Plan Civilian Company.

Civilian training to be put on by the two companies before their start to the mobilization camp will be taken up today on the city hall square. The drilling will begin about noon and will be given for the benefit of the business men that they may learn the rudiments of the work of the modern soldier and of the regulation army drills.

Recruiting in the new Central Texas regiment is being carried on and the four companies allotted to Waco are being rapidly whipped into form. It is confidently expected by those in charge of this branch of the service that the regiment will be in a position to be mustered into federal service before the order for entraining for the state camp may come.

Demonstration to Be Made by Cotton Belt Railroad

A Cotton Belt demonstration train composed of poultry, dairy and agricultural exhibit cars, left Waco yesterday morning at 10 o'clock for a three weeks' tour of Central Texas cities.

This train was equipped at the Cotton Belt demonstration at New Brunswick, Texas, and is under the personal charge of W. R. Beattie, of the Southwestern Railroad company of St. Louis.

Lectures will be made at all of the towns where stops are made and advice will be given as to the best plans for handling dairy products and feeding all farm animals and poultry. The incubator system of chicken raising will also be a topic taught.

Public School of Waco Shows Loyalty in Plans

In accord with the patriotic sentiments that is spreading throughout Waco, Professor Marrs of the East Waco public school had all of his pupils assemble at 11 o'clock central time, the hour of the opening session of congress, and sing America. This was followed by the pupils marching to the flag pole and standing in a circle, at attention, while the flag was raised in true military fashion.

According to Professor Marrs, his school has the largest attendance of any ward school of Waco and he has an increase of 100 over the last term. It is his plan to teach every boy and girl in his school the American spirit of patriotism.

Big War Rumors Result in Much Matrimony

The big license book at the court house, containing the records of marriage permits, is filling up with great rapidity. Rumor has it that the calling out of the soldier boys has something to do with the increased number of licenses issued. Others say that it is the single men clause in the conscript law. Yesterday's licensees follow: Wily Smith and Miss Cecile Atkins; Frank Wiles and Miss Rose Wallenstein; Wesley Downs and Miss Onah Byrom; E. W. Halden and Miss Hobart Jordan; Cleofos Bosque and Miss Placida Yradano; C. Simpson and Miss Allah Mae Clark; G. W. Sullivan and Miss Lizzie Gibson.

LET'S BE LOYAL

THE NEWS SUGGESTS THE Y. M. B. L. TONIGHT PLAN COLISEUM MEETING.

PRACTICALLY every wide awake city in the country has had or is planning a LOYALTY DAY. A news item in today's issue gives the details of the one Dallas will hold at the Park coliseum Thursday night, at which President Brooks of Baylor is invited as principal speaker.

The proposed LOYALTY DAY in Waco should be held Wednesday. The Young Men's Business league tonight should endorse the plan. The News believes that it is peculiarly the business of the larger cities of Texas to express their citizen's loyalty to the flag at this time.

The chorus "stand by the president" that is swelling eastward from the farms and cities of the south and west must be a tremendous comfort to President Wilson at this hour. Waco should not be silent.

WACO PATRIOTIC RALLY PLANNED

Monster Mass Meeting Anticipated for Tomorrow at Coliseum.

The movement for a city-wide demonstration of patriotism swelled itself into a demand yesterday and last night to the point of predicting that Wednesday night instead of the advanced date, April 12, would see a monster Waco citizens' rally at the Cotton Palace coliseum in manifestation of American loyalty.

According to tentative plans which will be discussed at a meeting of the Y. M. B. L. tonight, Waco militiamen will be guests at the demonstration. The Y. M. B. L. meeting tonight will be addressed by Superintendent of Schools B. B. Cobb, officers and directors of the league, all of them to urge and plan on the coming Waco demonstration.

Expressions on all sides last night predicted one of the greatest city-wide rallies Waco or Texas has ever known.

DALLAS IN MASS MEETING.

Special to the News.

Dallas, April 2.—Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor university, and Governor Ferguson will, if they accept invitations tendered them today, be the principal speakers at a gigantic war mass meeting to be held at the Fair Park coliseum here Thursday night, April 5.

FLAGS TO FLY.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce which took place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, a motion was made and carried, recommending through the Chamber of Commerce the display of flags throughout the business section of Waco as an indication of the feeling with which the city approaches the state of war.

Many Men Are Now Responding Nation's Call

Jack Hollifield, 2025 North Sixth street, answered the call for a larger army in the service of Uncle Sam yesterday and offered to the government his services during the next four years by enlisting in the regular army. Jack is one of twelve men to be sent from Waco to San Antonio during the past week for duty in the army. He enters the service as a printer and will be in some department of his trade. Jack was formerly with The Morning News in the mechanical department and was with the Standard Printing company at the time of his enlistment.

President Wilson Conservatively Firm But Determinedly Insistent in His Request for War Upon German Nation

In asking congress last night to declare war on Germany, President Wilson outlined in full the manifold piracies committed by the imperial government upon American rights.

"The wrongs against which we now arm ourselves," he said, "are no common wrongs. They cut to the very roots of human life."

Disclaiming any quarrel with the German people and anything but a feeling of friendship and sympathy for them, the president declared their government had not acted upon their impulses in entering the war nor with their previous knowledge or approval.

In scathing terms the president referred to German plots against the United States.

The "whole force of the nation," if necessary, the president declared, would be spent against this natural "foe to liberty" and to "check its pretensions and power."

Towards Germany's allies, the president said the United States was taking no action at this time because they were not engaged in war against Americans on the seas.

The president expressed his confidence in the loyalty of naturalized citizens and declared that if disloyalty did lift its head, it would be only from a "lawless and malignant few" and sternly would be suppressed.

With a renewed declaration that the nation must unselfishly act, only for freedom, peace and humanity, the president left the question with congress.

NATION'S PRESS BACKS WILSON IN WAR CRISIS

Uniformity of Patriotism Electrifies the Wires Last Evening.

Here are just a few of the editorial comments on the international crisis which may be found in this morning's issue of American newspapers:

Arkansas Gazette.

President Wilson's history making address to congress is distinguished first for dignified expression of the burning sense of outrage that fills the breast of a nation which has suffered long and grievously from the murderous acts of outlaws of the sea.

It is distinguished again for the sound practical measures he urges in an hour that demands heroic exertions.

San Antonio Express.

The president of our nation proclaims to the world that the line has been crossed. Our national rights have been invaded—heinous outraged by the system-makers and system-keepers of an "over all" militarism. Our liberties are under attack. We are at war with the invader. Not at war with a fearfully burdened people, but at war with their over lords, who, alone, have plunged a great people and a world into war.

Daily Oklahoman.

For two and a half years the German government has trampled ruthlessly upon every American right that stood in the way of her monstrous purpose.

She has lied to us. She has killed our citizens. She has held us in contempt. We are a weakling nation. Germany said, without an army, with no stomachs for fighting and made cowards by liberty. There is but one answer for young America to give. Go to the recruiting station and get your gun.

Beaumont Enterprise.

America will answer the kaiser today. Our patience and restraint have been too long mistaken for cowardice, our aloofness and caution for desire for further gain. Now that the Berlin gamblers in human destiny are to find out their error, it remains for us to make a quick conclusion of the struggle upon which we are unwillingly entering. And that conclusion can embody nothing less than the abolition of the house of Hohenzollern, in all its ramifications.

Fort Worth Record.

The president spoke as a statesman and a patriot. The nation is bound him and woe be to that senator or congressman who does not recognize that fact. Since it could no longer be peace save with dishonor, then let it be war.

Tulsa World.

The president's address to congress was more than a speech; it was greater than any event; it marked an epoch. It will be the cornerstone to the foundation of a new world civilization far beyond the dreams of all past ages.

The message fell from the lips of the world's foremost representative of peace and leading spokesman of peace and human rights and liberties, voicing the united sentiment of an undivided country.

Bannwart and several of his friends were taken in charge by the capitol police.

He urged in preparing for war:

To carry on an effective warfare against the German government, which he characterized as a "natural foe to liberty" the president recommended:

Utmost practical co-operation in counsel and action with the governments already at war with Germany.

Extension of liberal financial credits to those governments so that the resources of America may be added so far as possible to theirs.

Organization and mobilization of all the material resources of the country.

Full equipment of the navy, particularly for means of dealing with submarine warfare.

An army of at least 500,000 men based on the principle of universal liability to service and the authorization of additional increments of 500,000 each as they are needed or can be handled in training.

Raising necessary money for the United States government so far as possible without borrowing and on the basis of equitable taxation.

All preparations, the president urged, should be made in such a way as not to check the flow of war supplies to the nations already in the field against Germany.

Measures to accomplish all these ends, the president told congress, would be presented with the best thought of the executive departments and he besought consideration for them in that light.

SUB TORPEDOES U. S. SHIP-28 OF CREW DROWN

Steamer Was Armed, but Details of Encounter Are Lacking.

By Associated Press.

New York, April 2.—The American steamship Aztec, owned by the Oriental Navigation company, the first armed ship to sail from an American port, was sunk yesterday by a German submarine, according to advice received here tonight by the company from the United States consul at Brest, France.

The cable message gave no information as to the fate of the crew. There were thirty-nine men aboard the vessel, sixteen of them Americans.

The Aztec sailed from New York March 18 for Havre. She was commanded by Capt. Walter O'Brien. Sixteen members of the crew were native-born Americans.

The Oriental Navigation company, owner of the Aztec, also owns the Orleans, one of the first American vessels to run successfully Germany's submarine blockade. The Aztec carried a full cargo of foodstuffs and general supplies, valued at more than $500,000.

The Aztec was armed with two five-inch guns, one forward and one aft. The crew of naval gunners on board was in command of a warrant officer.

The Aztec, formerly owned by the Pacific Mail Steamship company, was a ship of 6,723 tons gross and 2,345 tons net. She was built in New Castle, England, 1894. She was 350 feet long, with a beam of forty-three feet.

have been ruthlessly sent to the bottom without warning and without thought of help or mercy for those on board, the vessels of friendly neutrals along with those of belligerents. Even hospital ships and ships carrying relief to the sorely bereaved and stricken people of Belgium, though the latter were provided with safe conduct through the prescribed areas by the German government itself, and were distinguished by unmistakable marks of identity, have been sunk with the same reckless lack of compassion or principle.

"I was for a little while unable to believe that such things would in fact be done by any government that had hitherto subscribed to the humane practices of civilized nations. International law had its origin in the attempt to set up some law which would be respected and observed upon the seas, where no nation had right of dominion and where lay the free highways of the world. By painful stage after stage had that law been built up with meager enough results, indeed after all was accomplished that could be accomplished but always with a clear view at least what the heart and conscience of mankind demanded.

No Other Recourse.

"This minimum of right the German government has swept aside under the plea of retaliation and necessity and because it has no weapons which it could use at sea except those which it is impossible to employ as it is employing them without throwing to the winds all scruples of humanity or of respect for the understandings that were supposed to underlie the intercourse of the world.

"I am not now thinking of the loss of the property involved, immense and serious as that is, but only of the wanton and wholesale destruction of the lives of non-combatants and men, women and children engaged in pursuits who have always, even in the darkest periods of modern history, been deemed innocent and legitimate. Property can be paid for, the lives of peaceful and innocent people cannot be."

"The present German submarine warfare against commerce is a warfare against mankind. It is a war against all nations. American ships have been sunk; American lives taken in ways which it has stirred us very deeply to learn of but the ships and people of other neutral and friendly nations have been sunk and overwhelmed in the waters in the same way. There has been no discrimination. The challenge is to all mankind.

"Each nation must decide for itself how it will meet it. The choice we make for ourselves must be made with a moderation of counsel and a temperance of judgment befitting our character and our motives as a nation. We must put excited feeling away. Our motive will not be revenge or the victorious assertion of the might of the nation, but only creation of right, of human which we are only a single alls Former Address.

"I addressed the congress on the 6th of February last. I hat it would suffice to assert our rights with arms, our the seas against unlawful on, our right to keep our fe against unlawful violence, ed neutrality. It now appears, tickable.

"Our submarines are in effect when used as the German

"rines have been used against shipping, it is impossible to end ships against their attacks as the law of nations has assumed that merchantmen would defend themselves against pirates or cruisers, visible giving chase upon the open sea. Common prudence in such circumstances, grim necessity indeed, to deavor to destroy them. Before they have shown their own intentions they must be dealt with upon sight if dealt with at all.

"The German government denies the right of neutrals to use arms at all within the areas of the sea which it is proscribed, even in the defense rights which no modern publicist ever before questioned their right defend. The intimation is conveyed to the armed guards which we have had on our merchant ships will be met as beyond the pale of law and object to be dealt with as pirates would be. Armed neutrality is ineffectual enough at best; in such circumstances, and in the face of such extensions, it is worse than ineffectual; it is likely once to produce what was meant to prevent; it is probably certain to draw us into the Firm in Decision.

"I have exactly the same things in mind now that I had in mind when I addressed the senate on the 22nd of January last; the same that I had in mind when I addressed the congress on the 6th of February and on the war without either the rights or the effectiveness of belligerents.

No Choice Remains.

"There is one choice we cannot make, we are incapable of making: We will not choose the path of submission and suffer the most sacred rights of our nation and our people to be ignored or violated. The wrongs against which we now array ourselves are not common wrongs; they cut to the very roots of human life.

"With a profound sense of the solemn and even tragical character of the step I am taking and of the grave responsibilities which it involves, but unhesitating obedience to what I deem my constitutional duty, I advise that the congress declare the recent course of the imperial German government to be in fact nothing less than war against the government and people of the United States; that it formally accept the status of belligerence which has thus been thrust upon it and that it take immediate steps not only to put the country in a more thorough state of defense, but also to exert all its power and employ all its resources to bring the government of the German empire to terms and end the war.

"What this will involve is clear. It will involve the utmost practicable co-operation in counsel and action with the governments now at war with Germany and as incident to that the extension to those governments of the most liberal financial credits in order that our resources may so far as possible be added to theirs. It will involve the organization and mobilization of all the material resources of the country to supply the materials of war and serve the incidental needs of the nation in the most abundant and yet the most economical and efficient way possible. It will involve the immediate full equipment of the navy in all respects but particularly in supplying it with the best means of dealing with the enemy's submarines. It will involve the immediate addition to the armed forces of the United States already provided for by law in case of war at least 500,000 men who should in my opinion be chosen upon the principle of universal liability to service and also the authorization of subsequent additional increments in equal force so soon as they may be needed and can be handled in training.

Must Train Men.

"It will involve also of course, the granting of adequate credits to the government, sustained I hope so far as they can equitably be sustained by the present generation by well conceived taxation. I say sustained so far as may be equitable by taxation, because it seems to me that it would be most unwise to base the credits which will now be necessary entirely on money borrowed. It is our duty I most respectfully urge to protect our people so far as we may against the very serious hardships and evils which will be likely to arise out of the inflation which would be produced by vast loans.

"In carrying out the measure by which these things are to be accomplished we should keep constantly in mind the wisdom of interfering as little as possible in our own preparation and in the equipment of our own military forces with the duty—for it will be a very practical duty of supplying the nations already at war with Germany with the materials which they can obtain only from us or by our assistance. They are in the field and we should help them in every way to be effective there.

"I shall take the liberty of suggesting through the several executive departments of the government for the consideration of your committees, measures for the accomplishment of the several objects I have mentioned. I hope that it will be your pleasure to deal with them as having been framed after very careful thought by the branch of the government upon which the responsibility of conducting the war and safeguarding the nation will most directly fall.

"While we do these things, these deeply momentous things, let us be very clear and make very clear to all the world what our motives and our objects are. My own thought has not been driven from its habitual and normal course by the unhappy events of the last two months and I do not believe that the thought of the nation has been altered or clouded by them.

Spies Flood Nation.

"One of the things that has served to convince us that the Prussian autocracy was not and could never be our friend is that from the very outset of the present war it has filled our unsuspecting communities and even our offices of government with spies and set criminal intrigues everywhere afoot against our national unity of council, our peace within and without, our industries and our commerce.

"We are about to accept the gauge of battle with this natural foe to liberty and shall if necessary spend the whole force of the nation to check and nullify its pretensions and its power. We are glad now that we see the 26th of February. Our object now as then is to vindicate the principles of peace and the justice in the life of the world as against selfish and autocratic power and to set up amongst the really free and self-governed peoples of the world such a concert of purpose and of action as will henceforth insure the observance of these principles. Neutrality is no longer feasible or desirable where the peace of the world is involved and the freedom of its peoples, and the menace to that peace and freedom lies in the existence of autocratic governments backed by organized force which is controlled wholly by their will, not the will of their people. We have seen the last of neutrality in such circumstances.

"We are the beginning of the age in which it will be insisted that the same standards of conduct and of responsibility for wrong done shall be observed among nations and their governments that are observed among the individual citizens of civilized states.

No Quarrel With Germany.

"We have no quarrel with the German people. We have no feeling whatever against them but one of sympathy and friendship. It was not upon their impulse that their government acted in governing this war. It was not with their previous knowledge or approval; it was a war determined upon as wars used to be determined in the old, unhappy days when peoples were nowhere consulted by their rulers and wars were provoked and waged in the interest of dynasties or of little groups of ambitious men who were accustomed to use their fellow men as pawns and tools.

"Self government nations do not fill their neighbor states with spies or set the course of intrigue to bring about some critical posture of affairs which will give them an opportunity to strike and make conquest. Such designs can be successfully worked only under cover and where no one has the right to ask questions.

Reviews Intrigues.

"Cunningly contrived plans of deception or aggression carried, it may be from generation to generation, can be worked out and kept from the light only within the privacy of courts or behind the carefully guarded confidences of narrow and privileged classes. They are happily impossible where public opinion commands and insists upon full information concerning all the nation's affairs.

"A steadfast concert for peace can never be maintained except by a partnership of democratic nations. No autocratic government could be trusted to keep faith with it or observe its covenants. It must be a league of honor, a partnership of opinion. Intrigue would eat its vital away; the plottings of inner circles who could plan what they would and render account to no one would be a corruption sewed at its very heart. Only free peoples can hold their purpose and their honor steady to a common interest and prefer the interests of mankind to any narrow interest of their own.

"Indeed, it is now evident that these spies were here even before the war began; and it is unhappy not a matter of conjecture, but a fact proved in our courts of justice, that the intrigues which have more than once come perilously near to disturbing the peace and disturbing the industries of the country have been carried on at the instigation, with the support and even under the personal direction of official agents of the imperial government accredited to the government of the United States.

"Even in checking these things and trying to extirpate them we have sought to put the most generous interpretation possible upon them, but we know their source lay not in any hostile feeling or purpose of the German people towards us (who were, no doubt, as ignorant of them as we ourselves were), but only the selfish designs of a government that did what it pleased and told its people nothing. But they have played their part in serving to convince us at last that the government entertains not real friendship for us and means to act against our peace and security at its convenience. That it means to stir up enemies against us at our very doors the intercepted note to the German minister at Mexico City is eloquent evidence.

"The autocracy that crowded the summit of her political structure long as it had stood and terrible as was the reality of its power, was not in fact Russian in origin, character or purpose, and now that it has been shaken off and the great generous Russian people have been added in all their majesty and might to the forces that are fighting for freedom in the world, for justice and for peace. Here is a fit partner for a league of honor.

In Spirit of Right.

"One of the things that has served to convince us that the Prussian autocracy was not and could never be our friend is that from the very outset of the present war it has filled our unsuspecting communities and even our offices of government with spies and set criminal intrigues everywhere afoot against our national unity of council, our peace within and without, our industries and our commerce.

"We are about to accept the gauge of battle with this natural foe to liberty and shall if necessary spend the whole force of the nation to check and nullify its pretensions and its power. We are glad now that we see the facts with no veil of false pretense about them to fight thus for the ultimate peace of the world and for the liberation of its peoples, the German peoples included; for the rights of nations great and small and the privilege of men everywhere to choose their way of life and of obedience. The world must be made safe for democracy. Its peace must be landed upon the trusted foundations of political liberty.

No Selfish Demands.

"We have no selfish ends to serve. We desire no conquest, no domination. We seek no indemnities for ourselves, no material compensation for the sacrifices we shall freely make. We are but one of the champions of the rights of mankind. We shall be satisfied to prove that friendship in our daily attitude and actions toward the millions of men and women of German birth and native sympathy who live amongst us and share our life and we shall be proud to prove it towards all who are in fact loyal to their neighbors and to the government in the hour of test. They are, most of them, as true and loyal Americans as if they had never known any other fealty or allegiance. They will be prompt to stand with us in rebuking and restraining the few who may be of a different mind and purpose. If there should be disloyalty, it will be dealt with a firm hand of stern repression; but if it lifts its head at all, it will lift it only here and there and without countenance except from the lawless and malignant few.

"It is a distressing and oppressive duty, gentlemen of the congress, which I have performed in thus addressing you. There are, it may be, many months of fiery trial and sacrifice ahead of us. It is a fearful thing to lead this great peaceful country into war, into the most terrible and disastrous of all wars, civilization itself seeming to be in the balance, but the right is more precious than peace and we shall fight for the things which we have always carried nearest our hearts—for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations, for a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as we shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself at last free. To such a task we can dedicate our lives and our fortunes, everything that we are and everything that we have with the pride of those who know that the day has come when America has been privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and the peace which she has treasured. God helping her, she can do no other.

"Indeed, it is now evident that these spies were here even before the war began; and it is unhappy not a matter of conjecture, but a fact proved in our courts of justice, that the intrigues which have more than once come perilously near to disturbing the peace and disturbing the industries of the country have been carried on at the instigation, with the support and even under the personal direction of official agents of the imperial government accredited to the government of the United States.

But they have played their part in serving to convince us at last that the government entertains not real friendship for us and means to act against our peace and security at its convenience. That it means to stir up enemies against us at our very doors the intercepted note to the German minister at Mexico City is eloquent evidence.

Accepts the Challenge.

"We are accepting this challenge of hostile purpose, because we know that in such a government, following such methods, we can never have a friend; and that in the presence of its organized power, always lying in wait to accomplish we know not what purpose, there can be no assured security for the democratic governments of the world."

In Spirit of Right.

"It will be all the easier for us to conduct ourselves as belligerents in a high spirit of right and fairness because we act without animus, not in enmity towards a people or with the desire to bring any injury or disadvantage upon them, but only in armed opposition to an irresponsible government which has thrown aside all considerations of humanity and of right and is running amuck.

"We are, let me say again, the sincere friends of the German people and shall desire nothing so much as the early re-establishment of intimate relations of mutual advantage between us—however hard it may be for them for the time being to believe that this is spoken from our hearts. We have borne with their present government through all these bitter months because of that friendship—exercising a patience and forbearance which would otherwise have been impossible. We shall, happily, still have an opportunity to prove that friendship in our daily attitude and actions toward the millions of men and women of German birth and native sympathy who live amongst us and share our life and we shall be proud to prove it towards all who are in fact loyal to their neighbors and to the government in the hour of test. They are, most of them, as true and loyal Americans as if they had never known any other fealty or allegiance. They will be prompt to stand with us in rebuking and restraining the few who may be of a different mind and purpose. If there should be disloyalty, it will be dealt with a firm hand of stern repression; but if it lifts its head at all, it will lift it only here and there and without countenance except from the lawless and malignant few.

"It is a distressing and oppressive duty, gentlemen of the congress, which I have performed in thus addressing you. There are, it may be, many months of fiery trial and sacrifice ahead of us. It is a fearful thing to lead this great peaceful country into war, into the most terrible and disastrous of all wars, civilization itself seeming to be in the balance, but the right is more precious than peace and we shall fight for the things which we have always carried nearest our hearts—for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations, for a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as we shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself at last free. To such a task we can dedicate our lives and our fortunes, everything that we are and everything that we have with the pride of those who know that the day has come when America has been privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and the peace which she has treasured. God helping her, she can do no other.

"Indeed, it is now evident that these spies were here even before the war began; and it is unhappy not a matter of conjecture, but a fact proved in our courts of justice, that the intrigues which have more than once come perilously near to disturbing the peace and disturbing the industries of the country have been carried on at the instigation, with the support and even under the personal direction of official agents of the imperial government accredited to the government of the United States.

"Even in checking these things and trying to extirpate them we have sought to put the most generous interpretation possible upon them, but we know their source lay not in any hostile feeling or purpose of the German people towards us (who were, no doubt, as ignorant of them as we ourselves were), but only the selfish designs of a government that did what it pleased and told its people nothing. But they have played their part in serving to convince us at last that the government entertains not real friendship for us and means to act against our peace and security at its convenience. That it means to stir up enemies against us at our very doors the intercepted note to the German minister at Mexico City is eloquent evidence.

"Indeed, it is now evident that these spies were here even before the war began; and it is unhappy not a matter of conjecture, but a fact proved in our courts of justice, that the intrigues which have more than once come perilously near to disturbing the peace and disturbing the industries of the country have been carried on at the instigation, with the support and even under the personal direction of official agents of the imperial government accredited to the government of the United States.

DOWNS-BYROM WEDDING TAKES PLACE MONDAY

Groom a Member of Guard and Wife Will Accompany Him to Post.

HIS company called out and the date of his return uncertain, John Wesley Downs asked his fiancée to marry him before his enforced return to military service. She was Miss Ona Byrom of Whitney, and friends have known here for some time that the event would take place. It had been agreed that the marriage would come after his return. The ceremony was performed at high noon yesterday at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Crippen, 2020 Colcord avenue, the Rev. H. L. Munger officiating. Only members of the immediate families were present.

Mr. Downs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Downs of this city, the family being one of the pioneer families of Waco. Mrs. Downs was a popular member of the younger social set of Whitney, and is known as a frequent and welcome visitor to this city.

Before going to the border Mr. Downs had been for some time in the employ of the H. T. Cruger company. He was taken back into his former position upon his return a few days ago, but is forced again to relinquish it on account of mobilization orders.

The date of the return of the guards being undecided, Mr. and Mrs. Downs have made no definite plans for the future, but tentative plans include her going with him to his post, provided the location is suitable. For the present they will be with relatives in the Texas Republic.

Mrs. E. D. T. Lessing responded to a suggestion from her hostess by giving one of her early poems, "Beautiful Hands," which is one of the most popular Mrs. Lessing has ever written.

A son of Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Mr. Frank Fitzpatrick, is at present serving his country as a representative at Austin.

The next meeting of the D. T. R. will be with the president, Mrs. R. L. Henry, the first Monday in next month.

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN STARTS APRIL 10.

April 10, 11 and 12 are the days during which the Y. W. C. A. will wage a strenuous campaign for new members and for the renewal of membership cards.

The Young Women's Christian association has enjoyed a year of remarkable growth, and the amount of good it has done and the degree to which real association has come into the lives of those whom it has united can never be estimated, even roughly. The association has come to be the biggest single factor in the lives of the women and girls of Waco, including all strata of society. It has been responsible for the bringing of close understanding and mutual pleasure to those who had never met in the old order of things, when "east was east and west was west" and "never the twain had met." Real fraternity has been worked toward and gloriously attained.

The many activities for which every Y. W. C. A. stands have been well begun in this the first year of the association. The physical work has been the great drawing card of the year, with the popularity and success of Miss Andrews as the bulwark upon which it was founded.

Girls' clubs have been formed, which have made possible freedom of expression and ease of manner to those who had never given themselves the chance for self-development. Social pleasures have been manifold. The girls are still living over in memory the wonderful excursions which they

FRANCES WILLARD UNION TODAY

The Frances Willard Union will meet in business session at the Austin Avenue Methodist church today at 3 o'clock. The meeting is important and a full quota of membership is desired.

MISS MARTIN AND MRS. HALL TO HAVE ROUND TABLE

The Round Table of Baylor university is to meet in the J. R. Collier home on Wednesday afternoon in social session, with Miss Little Martin and Mrs. A. J. Hall as hostesses.

Three honorees are named for the occasion: Mesdames A. P. Hickson, Fred Terry Rogers and E. E. Reed. Professor and Mrs. Hickson and Dr. and Mrs. Rogers are both leaving Baylor university life at the close of the term, going to Chicago. Mrs. Reed, who was Miss Margaret Kendall, and a member of the Round Table, is here from New Orleans on a visit with her parents. This courtesy to those who are to be absent from the pleasant Round Table meeting next year is timely and promises to be delightful.

DR. JOHNSON FOR HIS SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS.

Dr. J. B. Johnson and Mr. J. R. Collier were joint hosts to Dr. J. B. Johnson's Sunday school class, consisting of nearly fifty girls. Ten automobiles had been lent by friends of the hosts, and the girls enjoyed a splendid drive to West on Sunday afternoon. A more jolly, high-spirited crowd never took a "joy ride," for every minute of the drive there and back was filled with fun. The hosts treated the girls to ice cream and soft drinks on the home journey.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF CLAY STREET METHODIST.

The Woman's Missionary Society met yesterday afternoon in an unusually interesting and well attended session at the Clay Street Methodist church.

Miss Black, deaconess of the Cooperative Home, was a welcome visitor. Mrs. Bruce Gibson conducted the lesson in the text book, "The South Today," in an interesting and instructive manner.

enjoyed last summer to the Country club and the Fish Pond.

They have already begun to ask what they are to do this year and the social committee smiles knowingly, for there are better times than ever up their capacious sleeves.

The employment department has been of inestimable value in finding the employer for the right sort of girl, or vice versa.

The religious department has exemplified the spirit upon which all Y. W. C. A. work is founded—the creed of Christianity, and the simple but beautiful Vesper services have been oases in the desert.

It does not seem possible that a single member who has enjoyed even a part of the manifold blessings of the organization can consider severing her connection, and the committees are going to work on this hypothesis. The campaign is for new members. Those who are already members are cordially requested by the board to call upon the secretary and receive their cards on the payment of $1.

The chairmen of the committees are all requested to meet with the president of the board on Thursday at 10 o'clock, with the ladies of the committees of which they are chairmen, at which time plans will be completed for the campaign.

It is hoped that the committees will be agreeably surprised at the response which will meet their efforts when the campaign is really on.

MEXICO SPLIT IN TWAIN BY 2 NEW PARTIES

Civil Alignment Backs U. S.
War Party Remains Hostile to Nation.

By Associated Press.
Laredo, April 2.—Internal policies, used as a lever in an effort to regulate Mexico's course in international affairs, have brought about a situation of the utmost gravity in the republic, according to travelers just arrived from the Mexican capital.

These travelers say the constitutional party, now holding the reins of government, is divided into a so-called "civil" group and a military party embracing many of the chiefs of the army. Tremendous pressure is being brought to bear on General Carranza by each party, but the president-elect so far has not definitely aligned himself with the policy of either, although it is known he desires to curb the undue activities of the military, according to the recent arrivals.

CIVIL PARTY FRIENDLY.

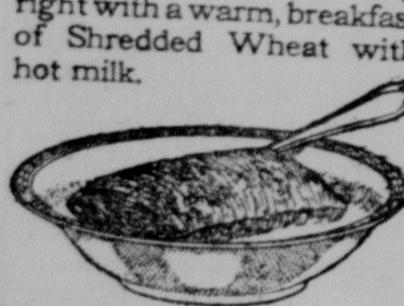

The "civil" party these men say, was strongly opposed to any alliance with Germany against the United States, and is standing firm for a policy of neutrality in the event of the entry of the United States into the European conflict. The military party, according to these stories, is strongly pro-German and advocates the entry of Mexico into hostilities against its British neighbor with all that such entry implies.

The reports brought from Mexico City assert that German influence and money have been active among certain parties and that certain members have in contemplation and preparation plans for an active invasion of the border states after the United States has been goaded into making the first hostile movement. It is also asserted these plans contemplate the fomenting of a revolutionary movement in Guatemala and the burning of the oil wells in the Tampico district, from which the larger part of the British naval fuel supply is drawn.

The story has been brought to the border that General Maximilian Klaus, a German-Mexican commander, has begun the recruiting of a brigade of 2,000 Germans whose duty it will be to foment hostilities with the United States in Chihuahua and Sonora. Gen-

My commission expires June 30, 1917.

General Klaus is now believed to be in Guadalajara.

Generals in Intrigue.

It is alleged by the travelers that they were informed before leaving Mexico City that sixteen generals closely allied with General Obregon, minister of war, called on Carranza and demanded that he withdraw his support from the civil faction, stating that if he did not do so they would cease to support his administration.

According to the sources mentioned previously, Germany is alleged to have promised the Mexican military chiefs Texas, Arizona and New Mexico in the event the proposed alliance should be successful, and also British Honduras, bordering on Yucatan.

As evidence of the tenseness of the situation in Mexico City, those arriving here instance the suppression of two prominent newspapers, El Nacional, an afternoon publication, and El Universal, a morning paper.

Gonzalo de la Parra, editor of El Nacional, recently published a signed editorial protesting against the misuse of authority by military men and the abuse of civilians of officers. This editorial was printed the next morning by Felix Palavicini, editor of El Universal, who commented favorably upon its tone.

DENOUNCE CIVIL PARTY.

Gen. Benjamin Hill, military commander of the city, called at the national palace to see General Carranza regarding these editorials and when told it was impossible for Carranza to see him, is said to have loudly denounced the civil party and the position of Luis Cabrera, finance minister, whom he designated as the tool of the United States.

Hill, it is said, then left and immediately ordered the suppression of both papers and the arrest of Palavicini and De La Parra. Palavicini was arrested and confined incomunicado in the penitentiary. De La Parra learned of the order and went into hiding. Friends of Palavicini say they fear for his life. He formerly was minister of public instruction and is closely associated with Carranza.

All troops in the capital are under command of Obregon and Hill, but outside the city within reaching distance are other troops under Pablo Gonzales, who with certain other military chiefs, it is believed by those coming from the capital, is loyal to Carranza, and would support him in event of any break with the military party.

GATHERS MUNITIONS.

According to the stories brought here Carranza has ordered a million cartridges issued to these outside troops. According to one story told Cabrera on his return to Mexico from Washington, brought with him evidence of the influence exercised by Germany on certain Mexican leaders and proof of the disbursement of funds by Germany to gain her ends.

It is asserted that men in close touch with official circles are authority for the statement that the pressure brought to bear upon Pastor Rouaux, formerly minister of fomento, by the military party, was the cause of his resignation last week. The military men, it is said, attempted to induce Rouaux to declare void numerous concessions owned by citizens of countries hostile to Germany.

Another Arrest Expected in Belton Girl's Death.

Special to the News.
Belton, April 2.—The body of Emma Staley, which was found in the Leon river three miles north of Belton on March 21, was exhumed today by order of the prosecuting attorney and an autopsy made. It is thought that the state has had the autopsy made to find out whether or not the life of the dead girl was taken in an effort to relieve her condition. Will Porter, who was arrested the day following the finding of the body, is still in jail and as a result of autopsy, it is thought another arrest will be made. Porter has waived examining trial and is awaiting the action of the grand jury.

FERGUSON WILL NOT O. K. BILL COVERING GAME

State Executive Vetoes Bill Providing for Bounty on Rabbits.

By Associated Press.

Austin, April 2.—Governor Ferguson today vetoed the house bill which carried an appropriation of $200,000 to pay bounties for the destruction of wolves, wild cats, jack rabbits and certain other wild animals. In vetoing this measure, the governor filed this message with the secretary of state:

"I hereby give official notice that within house bill number 28, is vetoed and disapproved. In so doing I am not anxious to perpetuate either the scream of the wild cat or the howl of the wolves. In fact, I am willing to go farther and approve a large amount for the extermination of the wolves and wild cats. We all have heard them too much. We hope they will hush and disturb us no more."

"But while this is true, I cannot give by official approval to anybody being paid to hunt jack rabbits. It is too much fun and besides if prices of meat continue to go up we may need the jack rabbit to live on. I think an appropriation of $200,000 as provided would only mean $100,000 for wolves and wild cats and $100,000 for jack rabbits. This is more rabbit meat than I think the state ought to buy at this time; therefore, the said within bill is vetoed and disapproved on this, the second day of April, 1917."

OTHER BILLS SIGNED.

Austin, April 2.—Governor Ferguson today signed the house bill providing for the establishment of a new state insane asylum to be known as the Northwest Texas Insane Asylum, this being a platform demand; he also signed the house bill providing for the extension of the state railroad from Palestine to Dallas, and also the house bill authorizing the building of the sale of the Rush iron industry and iron ore fields of the state. Other bills signed today by the governor are:

Fixing a tax on nine and ten pin alleys; providing an eight-hour work day for policemen, this applying to only a few of the larger cities of the state; establishing standard "containers" for vegetables and fruits; exempting from taxation all buffalo and catalo now in captivity; providing for an annual vacation of fifteen days for firemen; authorizing charitable and fraternal organizations to build tuberculosis cottages at Carlsbad; making it unlawful for railroads to confiscate coal or other commodities; prorating of pensions among Confederate veterans who are pensioners; rendering a verified plea of privilege prima facie evidence of right of defendant to change of venue; amending law relative to instructions to juries; authorizing cities and towns to cut weeds and remove rubbish from lots and charge expense to owner of property; preventing unnecessary cruelty to wild animals; permitting interurbans to own and operate public utility plants through the cities and towns that they traverse; requiring the publication in newspapers of all legal notices, instead of posting.

Certificate of dissolution filed by the Texas Motor Equipment company of Houston.

MARLIN PLOT WATCHED

Increased Vigilance Is Exercised in Falls County.

Special to the News.

Marlin, April 2.—A report reached here today of two men who came into Rosebud recently and employed a man with an automobile to drive them over the country. Before employing him, however, it is alleged that they ascertained that he could not speak German or Spanish, and that they visited people of these nationalities residing near Rosebud and conferred with them. While in the presence of the driver they spoke only German and Spanish. These men were not known in Rosebud and the driver at that time thought nothing of the incident. He is now of the opinion, however, that they were German spies trying to enlist sympathy for Germany in case of a declaration of war by the United States.

Hillsboro Holds Big Patriotic Demonstration

Hillsboro, April 2.—Preparations were completed today for a "patriotic rally" to be held in the public square tonight. M company, Second Texas regiment, will parade and drill. Twenty-five new recruits were sworn yesterday, officers reported today.

MEXICANS RETURNING

Cross River Bridge

By Associated Press.

El Paso, April 2.—A total of 12,742 more Mexicans crossed the international bridge here during the past fourteen days than returned to Mexico, according to official reports received by government agents.

The unusual number of Mexicans, a majority of whom were men, caused an investigation of reports that Mexicans were being sent to El Paso and other border cities from the interior to Mexico by German agents.

By Associated Press.

It was said the order extended to other shops on the company's lines and that several thousand men would be affected. Reason for the order was not assigned.

18 MONTHS TO PRODUCE LIQUID

PROCESS FROM MINE THROUGH LABORATORIES IS INTERESTING ONE.

It requires 18 months to produce liquid Vitalitas. The process is slow but very interesting. If there was none of the liquid obtainable today it would take a year and a half to bring forth a single bottle of it in the perfected form it is now sold. Yet while one bottle is being extracted many thousand others can be produced. Were this not so the demand for this remarkable liquid could never be met.

Crude Vitalitas or mineral oil is first mined then transferred to oxidation plants and months later to the laboratories. In two years Vitalitas has commanded almost world wide interest and shipments of it have been made to many foreign countries. It is one of Nature's greatest correctives, and in a natural way it enriches the blood and assists in throwing off toxic poisons, in overcoming weakness and chronic ills. There is no mineral water so efficient.

Sufferers of chronic indigestion, rheumatism, nervous debility should lose no time in testing natural Vitalitas. It is for sale by Powes-Kelly Drug store and all druggists.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

TO THE MINORITY.

PRESIDENT Wilson has said the word that means war with Germany.

Some of our readers—a very few we believe—feel that nothing has been done on the part of Germany which justifies a declaration of war. This editorial is addressed to them.

The News asks them to remember that President Wilson has for two years been pushing back the tide of war. He has met insult with negotiation. He has met conspiracy with watchful silence. He has consistently held that the great fair loving and fair dealing German population should not be penalized for the war-mad acts of rulers.

Our president has been peace-loving to the point where German ruthlessness made continued friendly relations with Germany impossible out of dishonor, and without an admission that the United States has no ties to movement or commerce outside of its own borders.

The vast majority of American citizens are firmly behind the president, is the decision; and he has made the fullest confidence that he is g only that which is necessary for the preservation of the American ideals of liberty and justice, seeking for the strength of American belief behind him, the News asks conscientious "peace-at-any-thing" at least to remain silent now. Conversation cannot change the world and give all the loyalty of their citizenship to the president beg hour.

PREPAREDNESS AT HOME.

Washington government to restrain every activity toward preparedness for a possible war conflagration.

Waco also has her preparedness problem. Her citizens are to vote today on a question of spending $35,000 for necessary fire protection. Should the voters refuse to authorize the bonds they, as property owners and renters, will pay $100,000 yearly in increased fire insurance premiums.

The News advises every voter of the importance of casting his ballot today. There will be many ballots cast by men who chronically are "agin all bonds." Many of these negative votes will be cast through habit, without a realization on the part of the men who cast them that they will lose almost three times $35,000 yearly, should the apparatus bond issue be turned down.

Amusements

Edited by W. R. B.

Good clean vaudeville with high class motion pictures are responsible for the big crowds filling the house at the Orpheum theatre yesterday.

Everybody goes away humming the songs hits of the "States Comedy Four" and this is the act that they tell their friends about next day. Harmony, singing, comedy and talking, the whole thing in a nut shell and some show at that.

"Gordon and Gifford" have a nifty little song and dance skit and they have a way of putting it across the footlights. The newness and brightness of it is making it a favorite. "Paul and Pauline" do novel stunts with little round rings, big round rings and rings that roll around. "The Ziras," with something new in the way of juggling make playthings out of furniture and put lots of pep into their act. A five part Pathé film, featuring Holbrook Blinn, amply cares for the motion picture end of the bill. The name of Mr. Blinn's vehicle is "The Empress." And listen it really has a plot.

FEATURE FILM AT QUEEN TODAY

Geraldine O'Brien, the famous actress, is featured in a powerful photoplay, "A Woman's Fight," playing today and tomorrow at the Queen. The story concerns a girl forced by circumstances to become an enemy to society. The manner in which she combats this evil makes one of the most interesting pictures ever shown in Waco.

Playing Thursday, Friday and Saturday are Mary Carlson and Webster Campbell in that long awaited photoplay masterpiece, "Satan's Private Door." A moral is taught in this picture and the rise of a pure young girl, beset on every side by poverty and temptation, to the highest standard of womanhood.

OTIS SKINNER IN "MISTER ANTONIO"

Booth Tarkington is telling with great glee of an ancient mariner, a retired sea captain resident in a small Jersey town, who recently visited New York on business and incidentally witnessed the performance of Otis Skinner in his new comedy, "Mister Antonio." On his return he reported his impressions to Mr. Tarkington, who is by way of being the author of the Skinner play.

"By golly, it was fine! Fine!" said he enthusiastically.

"Mr. Skinner, he's fine! By jolly, he certainly knows how to talk that Elysian language. They was all fine! Fine girl, too."

"Yes sir, but when the curtain went up on that bar room I like to a busted right out—do you know what they had hung up there?"

"No, I don't," replied Mr. Tarkington.

"By jolly, there she was; right on that bar room wall—a fine picture of old 'Flying Cloud,' about the most famous old clapped ship that ever sailed the Atlantic ocean."

"Yes sir, there she was. I'd know her like you'd know a picture of your aunt. They had hung up there large as life. By golly, yes sir, there was the old 'Flying Cloud.'

"Oh, it was a fine show! Fine."

Otis Skinner will present Mr. Antonio at the Auditorium Friday evening, April 6.

THE DARK ROAD AT HIPPODROME

A voluptuous London beauty, who believes herself to be a reincarnation of Cleopatra, is the role assumed by Dorothy Dalton in the newest Ince picture, "The Dark Road," showing at the Hippodrome theatre today only. At the Hippodrome

Madame Petrova in "The Secret of Eve," at the Hippodrome tomorrow.

Written by John Lynch and directed by J. G. Hawks. As Cleo Murrison, ruling over a court of admirers, Miss Dalton has created a lustrous portraiture. Her gowns are marvels of ingenuity and beauty, and she wears them to the "manner born." The settings are said to be even more elaborate than those of "The Wolf Woman," the most pretentious being the apartment of the enchantress of London. A weird illumination brings out the exotic beauty of the statuary, draperies, and oriental furniture. An art gallery of Constable Manor, Hertfordshire, England, is another unusual setting which is used in the story. Robert McKim, Jack Livingston and Jack Gilbert are chief in the support.

New Machine Gun Here Causes Comment in Waco

About twenty prospective members new regiment met in the rooms of the new regiment met in the rooms of the Y. M. C. L. last night and discussed the work of the members of the company and the part of the company in active warfare.

These men were all interested in the work of the machine gun company and were anxious for the details of the workings of the gun to be explained to them. Three members of the Second Texas machine gun company were present and explained in detail the complicated mechanical devices. The men were especially interested in the fact that the gun can shoot some four to seven hundred shots every minute.

The cartridge is the same as the one used in the army rifle. It is hoped that a gun will be secured today or tomorrow so that the men may get an intimate knowledge of the machine gun.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

BY
O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, April 2.—A day at Coney Island when the first spring like weather arrives is one of the rare treats of metropolitan existence. Coney's call is as irresistible as ever. There is something about the crowds at Coney that make it altogether different.

There is Stauch's on a Sunday afternoon where a big bell rings when a new keg is opened. And the bell rings about every five minutes for Coney Islanders are a thirsty lot and beer is their drink.

Stauch's is tucked away off Coney's bowery. The waiters have beetle brows and they are all under-shot around the mouth which gives one the impression that it is better not to argue about the size of the check unless one cares for hospitals, doctors and things.

A big long dancing pavilion—as long as two city blocks—is always crowded and "hot dogs" are the piece de resistance. East Side girls dance together until some of the young bloods separate them.

The leader of the orchestra looks out of place outside of a freak museum. He has long black hair falling over his shoulders and he tries to imitate genius. If the tune is a fox trot he starts off fiddling and fox trotting at the same time in his balcony. He may stop and sing awhile in a high falsetto voice or he may whistle like a bird.

There are no encores—the musicians must have a little rest. Then there are the family groups that remind me of the old days of the beer gardens over the Rhine in Cincinnati. Mother and the kiddies and father in his celluloid collar and sucking at a weather-beaten pipe—always showing his authority and impressing it upon his brood that he's the boss and just let somebody start something.

Then there are the young men with their changeable silk vests, trick neckties of all descriptions, fancy cut coat pockets and hair trimmed bush league style. These places fascinate me more than tea at the Ritz or Majestic. I feel more at home there.

A policeman was standing at Forty-second street and Fifth avenue when a young blade came down the avenue in a racy-looking roadster. At his side and resting back on his shoulder blades was another young man with a bandage over his eye.

As the automobile reached the policeman the driver looked around as if undecided where to go. The policeman walked over.

"Looking for a hospital?" he inquired.

"None," said the driver. "I want to get him to some hotel. He's packed to the ears with expensive intoxicants."

"How did he get hurt?" asked the policeman, stepping up for a close up.

"He isn't hurt. He's asleep. I just put that bandage over his head to give the party an air of respectability. I couldn't have him snoring all the way down the avenue."

Away up at Broadway and 165th street the carpenters are putting in the final licks on Billy Sunday's tabernacle. I drove by there the other day with a friend—who owns a car—and wondered if it was in this huge structure, cheaply constructed, that the evangelist was to meet his Waterloo. That is what Broadway is saying. In the cafes, dancings and gilded palaces they treat the coming of Sunday much as they do the annual visit of the circus. And Broadway is always wise—or thinks it is. Stands new shops and fly by night merchants are already making their appearance near the tabernacle.

Columbus is boasting that it has produced the three most successful playwrights of the past few years and points with pride to Red Cooper, Meekie, Jules Eckers, Goodman and Elmer L. Reizenstein.

Mrs. Kawler (discussing the war): Belgium should be restored, of course. Mrs. Blundry: Yes, and, as our president suggests, I think there ought to be an anatomy for Poland.—Boston Transcript.

"Do you believe in early marriages?" "Yes. With the cost of living where it is now I'm inclined to the belief that the sooner the girls are married off the better."

ASK YOUR FRIEND

There is hardly a neighborhood in any city, town or hamlet in the United States where women cannot be found who have derived benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than forty years this botanic remedy has been overcoming some of the worst cases of female ills. As one woman has found help she has told another, who has used it with the same result; so the use of this great medicine has spread from shore to shore by the recommendation of those who have found it good. Therefore, ask your neighbor, let her tell you from experience the benefit which ailing women derive from the use of this famous medicine.

TO THE MINORITY.

PRESIDENT Wilson has said the word that means war with Germany.

Some of our readers—a very few we believe—feel that nothing has been done on the part of Germany which justifies a declaration of war. This editorial is addressed to them.

The News asks them to remember that President Wilson has for two years been pushing back the tide of war. He has met insult with negotiation. He has met conspiracy with watchful silence. He has consistently held that the great fair loving and fair dealing German population should not be penalized for the war-mad acts of rulers.

Our president has been peace-loving to the point where German ruthlessness made continued friendly relations with Germany impossible out of dishonor, and without an admission that the United States has no rights to movement or commerce outside of its own borders.

The vast majority of American citizens are firmly behind the president, is the decision; and he has made the fullest confidence that he is doing only that which is necessary for the preservation of the American is of liberty and justice.

Seeking for the strength of America behind him, the News asks conscientious "peace-at-any-price" at least to remain silent now.

Drop Another Game to Otto by 6 to 3 Score.

In the seventh game of the season yesterday the Sanger Sluggers lost their second game by the score of 6 to 3 to the Otto ball club, played on the latter's home grounds.

Dyer's pitching for Otto was mainly the feature of the contest. He struck out twelve of the Sluggers and pitched steadily throughout the nine innings.

Al Shepherd of the Sluggers was again the fiend on the bases, pilfering three and scoring once.

The game was witnessed by about 200 Otto fans. On a whole the contest was a snappy and well played game.

Both teams are negotiating for a series in the near future to determine the champions.

Batteries—Piercy, Love and Walters; Allen, Davis, Crum and Nehf and Gowdy.

Tanner walked and a two-bagger clouted out by Malmquist scored two more counters, giving the Nays a four run lead.

Another score was annexed by the Texas league team in the second frame when Wotell hit for two stations, Leslie, James and Tanner were given free transportation to the right corner, the score being forced on walks.

The latter two scores for the local team were chalked up in the last inning of the contest, Malmquist receiving a walk, Harkins' sacrifice advancing, Malmquist to second, Blunk and Wotell received passes, scoring a counter, and a score was annexed by a long center field fly batted by Wotell.

Northerners in Third.

The visitors started scoring in the third frame, annexing two tallies when Dressen hit for two bases, advanced to third on a high left field fly, and scored when Kirby parked the ball.

The only other score for the visitors was chalked up in the fifth. Dressen singled, advanced, and was caught at second. Biggett singled, Kirby singled, and the score was made on a high fly to center field batted by Dunn.

In the respect of hitting the visitors had somewhat the advantage of the Texas league team, hitting eleven times as compared with the Nays' seven hits.

None of the major league team's hits, however, were mere scratches and were of little value in advancing the runners.

The Minnesota players were responsible for nine straight putouts unassisted. Nays' nearest record in this respect was seven straight unassisted putouts during the fifth and sixth innings. The score:

TWO FALLS OUT OF THREE TO A FINISH.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, declared "the day of our deliverance is at hand" in the keynote speech to the notable gathering of women.

Miss Rankin, in reply, said: "The day after election it looked very much as if I had not been elected, but it seemed to me that the campaign had been nevertheless, worth while, because the women had stood together; the women had learned solidarity."

"I want you to know how much I feel this responsibility. There will be many times when I shall make mistakes and it means a great deal to me to know that I have encouragement and support."

Miss Rankin's entrance to the house was signalized by uproarious cheering and applause.

Every member on the floor and everybody in the crowded galleries rose, accompanied by Representative Evans of Montana, she walked to a seat in the rear of the hall.

Miss Rankin carried one of the scores of bouquets of flowers which had come to her office. She wore no hat and was attired in a dark dress. Members rushed from all parts of the chamber to congratulate her.

A second outburst of applause greeted Miss Rankin when her name was called on the roll and she replied "present" blushing furiously. The ovation continued until she rose from her seat and bowed.

EXHIBITION GAMES

BOSTON 4, NEW YORK 3.

By Associated Press.

Fayetteville, N. C., April 2.—The Boston Nationals today again took the lead in their series with the New York Americans, winning the fifth game 4 to 3. Love's wildness in the seventh rounded the issue, the New York pitcher giving four consecutive bases on balls, forcing in the tying run. The winning run followed on Konetchy's sacrifice fly.

Tanner walked and a two-bagger clouted out by Malmquist scored two more counters, giving the Nays a four run lead.

Another score was annexed by the Texas league team in the second frame when Wotell hit for two stations, Leslie, James and Tanner were given free transportation to the right corner, the score being forced on walks.

TEXAS KNIGHTS OF GRIP MEET TO TALK PLANS

Hold Session at Raleigh
Sunday—Committees
Report on Work.

The Texas Travelers in a busy session Sunday morning at the Raleigh handled several matters of general interest to the fraternity of salesmen. The passage of a death benefit plan featured the meeting. This provides for a benefit of $1 per member in good standing up to the time the rolls reach 200, renewals and new members for 1917-1918 to be paid the beneficiary of such members upon death. When the rolls reach a total of more than 200 members the benefit shall remain at $200 and the surplus received by assessments will go to a surplus. The treasury of the Texas Travelers is in substantial shape and will protect the first benefit payment, which will be reimbursed by assessment among those in good standing.

Past President J. S. McClintock, President J. W. Barnett and other officials predict a more remarkable growth in the future than has been the case in the past.

Complaint blanks to be furnished each member have been prepared on which travelers may register complaints as to hotel, train and other service to be handled by respective committees of the organization. C. D. De Bellive and others reported unsatisfactory conditions at one or two hotels.

Letters were read from two hotels showing general improvements in

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH. CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noise and ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and have it made them and you may have been the means of saving poor suffering persons from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parment (Double Strength). Take this home and add 1 ounce of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief to distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improved. The inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parment used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and gives a tonic action that facilitates obtaining the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

The Sanger Store Will Close at Four O'clock Next Thursday Afternoon for the Opening Game of BASEBALL at Katy Park

In order that the hundreds of people employed in the Sanger Store may attend the game and to show our appreciation of the Waco Baseball Club and its past efforts to furnish to Waco the best ball team in the State, the Sanger Store will close next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the Opening Game at Katy Park.

Vote for the Bonds Today

The bond election today for the Fire Department is of vital interest to every person in Waco who buys fire insurance. If the bonds carry the fire insurance rate will remain at the same figure or perhaps go lower. If the bonds do not carry the rate will be raised to a much greater amount.

The Fire Department should be improved and the bonds should carry. Don't fail to vote today. The bond election money will permanently improve the Fire Department for only $35,000 and a failure to carry the bonds means that Waco citizens will have to pay an increased insurance for fire protection each year of over $100,000. We recommend this from the standpoint of large fire insurers, as well as large taxpayers.

Opening Display of Men's Straw and Panama Hats

Eclipsing any display we have ever attempted before and offering the widest and most complete selection of Men's Straw and Panama Hats in our history, we invite your inspection of our Opening Display today.

The illustrations give you some idea of the various shapes and styles, but to appreciate how large and complete the 1917 displays of straw and Panama Hats really are you must see them.

In the Stiff Straws the leading braids are the Split and Sennet, and in the Soft Straws the leading braids are Leghorns, Panamas, Milans, Mackinaw's and Bangkoks.

Drop in today and try on the new shapes and styles in both straw and Panama Hats and select a stylish Straw or Panama for Easter.

Not a new idea, not a staple shape in either Straw or Panama Hats that is not to be found in this opening display. We invite you to visit our Men's Hat department in the Sanger Annex and inspect the new styles.

Straw Hats . . . $2 to $7
Panama Hats $5 to $15
